Art Unit: 1714

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1, 2 and 6-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The recited "wherein the terminal of the aklyeneoxy group" in lines 13-14 of claim1 lacks an antecedent basis, and thus claims are indefinite.

The recited "the segment (b) thereof is a nonionic polymer chain" in claim 8 improperly broadens scope of the amended claim 1 wherein particular emulsifier polymers are recited now. Also, the recited "(said segment (b) of) a vinyl monomer having a carboxyl group or a salt thereof" in claims 9 and 10 improperly broadens scope of the amended claim 1 wherein "(meth)acrylic acid or a salt thereof" is recited now.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 2 and 6-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Takiguchi et al (US 7,105,477).

The use of the instant copolymers as block or grafted polymeric dispersants in detergent compositions is well known as taught by Takiguchi et al (col. 5 and 6).

Art Unit: 1714

Applicant asserts that compositions taught by Takiguchi et al have 20% or less of water, especially 2-6.4% in Examples (Table 1). Said table 1 shows the instant nonionic surfactant, anionic surfactant, water soluble organic solvent, sodium carbonate, zeolite (aluminumsilicate), water and emulsifier. The instant polymer of claim 11 is also taught at col. 5, lines 45-61 with R₄ being an alkyl with 9-22 carbon atoms.

Furthermore, Takiguchi et al teach employing up to 40 mass % of water at col. 7, lines 22-27 and 1 to 30 mass % of water at col. 9, lines 41-47. The instant copolymer of claim 21 is taught at col. 5, lines 14-17.

Thus, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of invention to modify an amount of water in the compositions of Takiguchi et al since Takiguchi et al teach employing different amounts of water absent showing otherwise.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Art Unit: 1714

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1, 2 and 6-21 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-13 of U.S. Patent No. 7,105,477. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the liquid detergent composition of said patent encompasses the instant amounts of a nonionic surfactant, of an electrolytic salt, of water and an emulsifier as evidenced by table 1 and teaching at col. 7, lines 22-27 and col. 9, lines 41-47.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
